The Altiplano Path

The image captures a scenic view of the Altiplano region. In the foreground, a herd of llamas is grazing in a lush green field. The middle ground is dominated by a steep, rocky hillside with distinct horizontal layers of reddish-brown rock. The sky is a vibrant blue, filled with scattered white clouds. The overall scene is a mix of natural beauty and rugged terrain.

Embark on a full day adventure and take this amazing journey from Cusco to Puno, crossing through breathtaking landscapes on its almost 400 km between the two cities in a spacious and very comfortable vehicle. Along the way you will discover the magnificent Andean mountains and its changing and beautiful scenery, passing by vicuñas and alpacas

The image shows two ancient stone kilns built into a sandstone cliff face. The kilns are cylindrical and constructed from stacked stones with a lattice-like pattern of small holes. The larger kiln on the left has a dark, rectangular opening at its base. The smaller kiln on the right also has a similar opening. The cliff face is textured and reddish-brown. In the foreground, there is a field of green grass and numerous bright yellow wildflowers.

On route, you can admire archeological sites, colonial art, prehistoric history, scenic landscapes and delight your palate with a delicious Picnic lunch in one of the most amazing Andean settings, Tinajani Canyon.

A scenic view of a floating village on a lake. The foreground shows a wooden walkway made of reeds leading through several traditional thatched huts. People in colorful traditional clothing are walking along the path. In the background, there are mountains and a town. The text "On Route" is overlaid in the center.
